

ORIENTAL BANK DEPOSITORS DON'T GET THEIR MONEY

Attorney-General Jackson
Gets Receivership Fight Into Appellate Court.

Attorney-General Jackson today won a point in his fight to save the receivers of the Oriental Bank and to prevent it from re-opening. After a lengthy argument before Justice O'Gorman, the latter refused to rescind his decision of Saturday in which he threw out the receivers and approved the plan of re-organization.

Justice O'Gorman sent the controversy to the Appellate Division, where it will be heard by Justice O'Laughlin tomorrow.

In the meantime, the Oriental Bank's depositors who expected to get their money today will have to wait.

Directors Make Appeal.

Attorney-General Jackson and Deputy Attorney-General De Ford, David McCune for the depositors and Sanford Menken for the directors, opened in chambers before Justice O'Gorman. Mr. Menken said they wanted a rescission of the decision, with a provision setting forth that the Attorney-General consented to the order, and then filed a notice of appeal. This complicated the matter, said Mr. Menken.

"It seems to me utterly unheard of that any lawyer," said Mr. Jackson, "and especially a lawyer for the people, could consent to do away with the legal rights of the people. The sole purpose of this application is to deny the people the right of appeal. What I said was that if your Honor deemed this agreement, by which the depositors were to be paid, legal, I consented."

"No, I have a distinct recollection that you said you would consent to any plan by which the depositors were paid in full," said Justice O'Gorman.

"I asked you if you opposed the rescission of the agreement and you said 'no.'"

Mr. Menken then informed the court that Mr. Jackson had obtained a stay from the Appellate Division.

"I have nothing to say about that," said Justice O'Gorman. "I was assured that under this plan all the depositors were to be paid by Friday and that all were to be paid in full. It was my understanding that if this was not done the matter was to be taken up by this court and the Attorney-General."

During the argument Justice O'Gorman sided with Mr. Jackson on every point. The order presented by the attorneys for the directors was indefinite in specifying when the depositors would be paid.

"I deny the application to rescind this order," said Justice O'Gorman. "The Attorney-General has a right to withdraw his consent, even if he had given it. Let the matter be thrown out in the Appellate Division tomorrow."

Jackson Wants Time.

Attorney-General Jackson said after the proceedings that, as the order of Justice O'Gorman of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, granting him a hearing tomorrow amounted to a stay, all matters so far as he was concerned would remain in statu quo for the present.

"I am preparing the papers which will be presented to Justice O'Gorman," said the Attorney-General. "But they will have to be printed, and as there are a mass of them, I do not see how they can be ready before Wednesday."

That means that the temporary stay you have obtained will not be argued before the Appellate Division until Wednesday, he said.

"I do not see how the papers can be ready sooner."

"Will the assets, books, documents and the like, the property of the Oriental Bank, be retained by the temporary receivers pending this argument before Justice O'Gorman?" the Attorney-General asked.

"Just as I can see they will remain in the care of the Carnegie Trust Company and Receiver Schneider until the Appellate Court makes a decision."

He was asked regarding a report that some of the officers of the Carnegie Trust Company and Mr. Schneider would be summoned to the District Attorney's office to testify as to the discovery of the plan to re-open the Oriental Bank. He said he had been called to his attention, he said.

PERJURY ALLEGED IN EFFORT TO AID THE JENKINS

Men Charged With Procuring
False Affidavits to Get
Change of Venue.

Former Controller Edward M. Groat appeared before Judge Fawcett today, as counsel for Michael Cohen and Charles Sammling, who were arrested yesterday charged with procuring false affidavits to aid the Jenkins, the indicted officials of the Williamsburg and Jenkins Trust Companies in getting a change of venue for their trials.

Mr. Groat and District Attorney Clarke became involved in a wordy warfare over the question of bail, in which they attacked each other hotly. The District Attorney declared that Mr. Groat had been employed not by the prisoners, but by someone he wished to protect from what the prisoners might disclose. Thereupon the ex-controller retorted that Mr. Clarke had made an effort to get hold of the prisoners and write a statement from them.

"The District Attorney's office should be investigated for its oppressive methods," said Mr. Groat.

"My office does not need investigation," replied Mr. Clarke in reply. "But your office has been investigated and some of your men who were arrested got off because you went on the witness stand and testified for them. I am speaking of your sewer claim frauds."

"I demand of the court that the District Attorney withdraw his language about your sewer claim frauds," demanded Mr. Groat. "He knows well enough that I went to his office and asked for the investigation of the sewer claim frauds. The District Attorney could not then and said that both he and the former controller had previously been too busy."

Mr. Groat asked the bail for the two prisoners be continued at $1,000, but was fixed yesterday by Justice Marston, on the prosecutor's objection the court fixed bail at $500.

Alfonso, Told He and Premier Must Die, Still Insists on Visit to Barcelona.

MADRID, March 8.—A despatch has been received here from the Spanish Minister to Switzerland saying that the anarchists of Geneva have decreed the death of King Alfonso and Premier Maura.

It developed here today that a section of the Spanish Ministry is bitterly opposed to King Alfonso's going to Barcelona, which is described as a "swampy pest," but the king, with a display of the old Bourbon courage, has refused to be dissuaded. He considers it his duty to go and is confident that his visit will agree with the anarchistic spirit of the Spanish people and have a good effect.

The Greatest Achievements of the Age

Conceded Far and Near to Be the Most Perfect Instrument Made Combining Piano and Player

Do You Want to Buy a Playerpiano for $500.00 or Less?

We have Playerpianos that have been giving satisfaction for years which we can offer you at $300 and less. They are not our make, but we guarantee them to be as good as any Playerpiano on the market to-day selling at $500 or less. Where they prove unsatisfactory we exchange them. Instances:

REGINA PLAYER PIANOS $450

THAYER PLAYER PIANOS $435

AND OTHERS.

We should like to have you look around—investigate!—and then come in and see our line of Playerpianos at low prices. We do NOT absurdly claim them to be just as good as $700 Playerpianos, but we do insist on their being better than any Playerpiano sold in Brooklyn to-day for $500 or less.

Usually, when you are making an investment of a hundred dollars or more, you look into the proposition carefully before you pay your money. But many people are not that prudent when they come to buy a piano, and they live to regret it. Now a word about what it means to buy a Sterling Instrument of any kind. Your investment is safeguarded by an organization of master piano-builders that have been continuously in business for 47 years, and during that almost half century not a single blemish has found its way to a name that stands foremost among the greatest enterprises in the United States. The Sterling Piano Co. has never made "stencilled boxes of wire" (some call them pianos). Their name appears on every instrument they manufacture, and they stand behind every part and the entirety. There is no feature of chance in buying a Sterling—you KNOW what you are getting; you know you have made a safe and sane investment; that the instrument you have bought is the best that is made—you have a factory guarantee, and that's enough. We have the finest building in Brooklyn devoted exclusively to the sale of pianos, and we extend to you a cordial invitation to come in and look through the building and see our stock. You'll appreciate it! Investigate!
